The Big

Foreword

Above is the "Big Top" and at the left is the "Main Entrance" through which we passed, growing in knowledge, day by day. As many other seniors have done, we entered the "Big Top" in the first grade and as time passed, we found ourselves in different and varying "side-shows."

Through our attendance at the "Big Top" and through our taking advantage of what it has had to offer, we hope to make this a better community.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY OF INDIANA, INC.

This is a faculty snap of our elementary teachers at a teachers' meeting. Mr. Miller took this picture at the January 8th meeting around one of the study hall library tables.

A snap of the basketball squad at one of the time outs as they received instructions from their coach "Doe". This snap was made at the four-way tourney against Laketon.

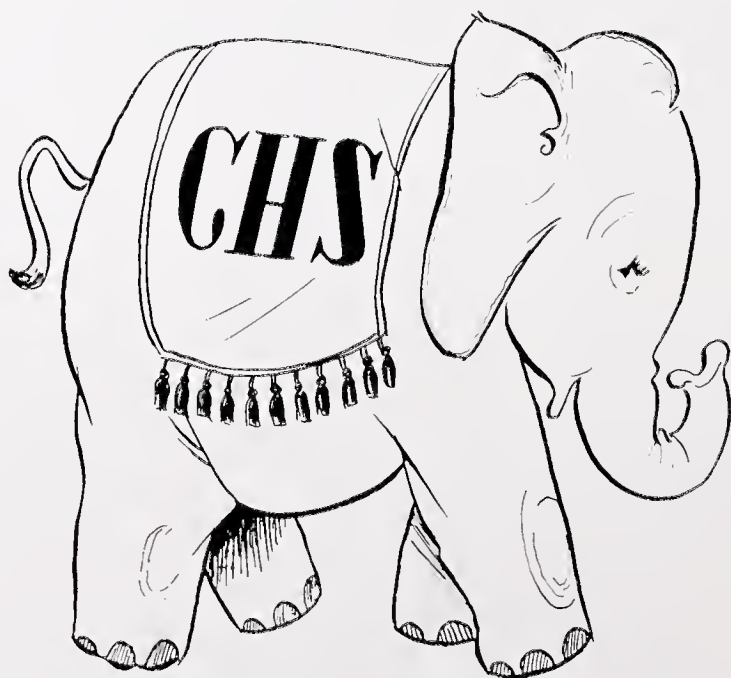

The Chemistry class caught in the midst of one of its "stinking" experiments. We were making one of those terrible smelling gases everyone smells on Monday and Friday of every week. They are really fun.

A picture of one of our activities, the Senior play. Believe it or not the "Lady" with the dress and hat is not a lady, but one of our senior boys, Herbert Underwood.

Senior Class History

On the 30th day of August in 1947 forty intelligent freshmen ventured into Chester High School and started off with a bang. The group elected the following officers: President, James Schumaker; Vice President, Max Richards; Treasurer, Anita Schroll; Secretary, Mary Lois Fleck. The class sponsors were: Mrs. Von Ehr, Mrs. Allen, and Mr. Dilling. That year a new student, Alvin Wiley, entered our class.

After a summer vacation we went back to school as sophomores; there were thirty-seven in our class that year. The officers elected were: President, Harold Frieden; Vice President, William Helvey; Secretary, Jim Hammond; Treasurer, Herbert Underwood. Sponsors were: Mrs. Lytle and Mr. Scribner. We had two class parties to remember our year by.

In 1949 thirty-three juniors enrolled and elected officers for the year: President, Herbert Underwood; Vice President, Esther Frey; Secretary, Jane Boocher; Treasurer, Anita Schroll. That year we sold refreshments at the basketball games and had a cake walk at the South Whitley game to make money. On April 14th a three-act play entitled "A Date With Judy" directed by Miss Eshelman was presented. Class rings, a rained-out weiner roast, and our Junior-Senior Reception at Warsaw added fun to our junior year. Our sponsors were: Miss Eshelman and Mr. Metzger.

On August 29, 1950, thirty seniors gathered in the assembly for our last enrollment. The officers for the year were: President, Morris Poer; Vice President, Norman Chamberlain; Secretary, Lester Williams; Treasurer, Anita Schroll. Our sponsors were: Mrs. Vandegrift and Mr. Smith. We had a class play "Professor How Could You" and we also sold magazines for trip money and set a new record in the magazine sales. Our trip, Ravelings, Baccalaureate and Commencement, highlighted an eventful year.

We, the seniors of 1951, will to the juniors the ability to get along with the teachers.

We, the seniors of 1951, will to the sophomores our intelligence and good behavior.

We, the seniors of 1951, will to the freshmen spot remover to remove the green spots.

We, the seniors of 1951, will to the faculty our quiet ways and our good looks.

I, Don Bechtold, will my front seat in the study hall to anyone who wants it so they can slip in after the bell rings.

I, Dora Betten, will my ability to chew gum in Mr. Dilling's classes and get away with it, to Nilah Cook.

I, Jane Booher, will my ability to get along all day with one half of a Kleenex to anyone who thinks they can sniff their way through it.

I, Norman Chamberlain, will my wavy hair to Dewayne Klutz.

I, Max Cunningham, will my ability to play the cornet to Tom Coon, so he will not get into trouble with "Leck."

I, Carolyn Enyeart, will my girlish figure to Miss Eshelman and my good grades in deportment to Derwood Coe.

I, Mary Feters, will my jalopy to Ben Wright so Maxine won't have to make out so many tardy slips next year.

I, Mary Lois Fleck, will my 3 years of yell leading to anyone who can take criticism and has a good personality, and my curly hair to Bonnie Wiley and everything else that is left to myself.

I, Esther Frey, will my long finger nails to Marcus Frieden so he can fight off the girls in the future.

I, Bonnie Frieden, will my shyness to Lulubelle Penrod and my A's in deportment to anyone who needs them.

I, Harold Frieden, will my bashfulness to my brother, Marcus.

I, Ted Frieden, will my ability not to get lost in Indianapolis and to find certain people, to co-pilots Ted Spann and Russell Hapner.

I, Doris Gibbs, will my baby clothes to Kay Bonam so that she will have some nice clothes to wear when she grows up.

I, Bob Graham, will my track shoes to Jerry Clark and my wicked wink to R. J. Renicker.

I, Glorea Grossnickle, being in sound mind, do hereby will my black hair to Betty Williams and my big black eyes to Red Heeter. Also my seat on Red's bus to anyone who can take his kidding.

I, Elizabeth Gump, will my ability to get A in deportment to Rose Ann Bucher and my place in band to anyone who will get a bang out of it.

I, Jim Hammond, will my good conduct and good grades to that big boy in the seventh grade, Bob Leiter.

I, Dean Hapner, will my civilian clothes to my brother, Russell, as I won't need them after May 31.

I, Jim Larrison, will Bill Clarke a high chair and a pair of opera glasses to save his shoe soles.

I, Bob Littlefield, will my good understanding feet to Gary Jackson.

I, Morris Poer, will my seat in Derwood's Chevie to anybody who can change tires.

I, Lloyd Reiken, will my Ford to Ben Wright so he won't have to walk home.

I, Dorsey Rhoades, will my ability to get to school on time to Ted Spann.

I, Max Richard, will the rest of my conduct and behavior to Ben Wright as I think he will need it.

I, Anita Schroll, being of sound mind, leave my ability to barely miss the bus every morning to anyone who has strong nerves.

I, James Schumaker, will my ability to walk with my head in a cooler atmosphere to Gary Miniear and my waistline to Wayne Dilling.

I, Herb Underwood, hereby will my position on the basketball squad to the up and coming mighty all star, Jay Schilling.

I, Alvin Wiley, will my ability to get A's in deportment to anyone who needs it.

I, Lester Williams, will my "Chevie" to anyone who thinks he can keep it running a full week. Also my curly hair to my sister, Betty.

I, Charlotte Wright, will my "Senior Cord" skirt to some green-eyed underclassman.

Chester is indeed fortunate in having a spacious play ground. During the summer of 1950, lights were added to the softball diamond which had recently been constructed. With this project as a beginning, it is hoped that other additions will be made in order to accommodate the people of our community in various types of recreation.

The Chester High School Softball Team of 1950 was one of the better teams in Wabash County. The seven seniors formed the backbone of the varsity squad; however, they relied heavily on the juniors and sophomores for assistance. Good pitching by Richards and Meyer and hitting by Poer, Coe, and Hammond featured the Panther attack.

COACH PAUL "PETE" FAUDREE

"Pete," as the boys all call him, was softball coach for the season of '50. This year in a summer league Chester won 5 and lost 3 games. After the school year started, Chester had a 5 and 2 record. The games were as follows:

Chester	8	Sidney	5
Chester	6	Laketon	3
Chester	1	Central	3
Chester	15	Urbana	1
Chester	8	Central	4
		(Dedication of new ball diamond)
Chester	0	Roann	5
Chester	5	Chippewa	0
Chester Reserves	7	Central Reserves	2

The following seniors will win their letters with bars this year: Chamberlain, Graham, Underwood, Richards, Poer, Hammond, and Williams. The following boys will win their letters for the first time this year: Bollinger, Swihart, Baker, Houser, Morrissey, Keaffaber, Aughinbaugh, Brown, and M. Frye. This ends the softball season for 1950.

Track

The track team of 1950 met some of the toughest competition in the history of the school. A fifty-fifty season does not express the quality of the Panther's "cinder men." School records were broken by K. Bucher in the 180 yd. low hurdles, M. Speicher in the high hurdles, and Charles Swihart in the shot put.

Swihart was the first student of Chester to win a place in the finals of the State Track Meet. Not only did he win 3rd place in the finals of the State, but he also set records at Kokomo, Huntington, and Converse. His best record was 51 feet 7 inches.

The 1951 track team will miss the stellar performances of K. Bucher, Stanley Schnepf, and Charles Swihart. We have a name to uphold in track, and we hope the squad of 1951 will also have a successful season.

Junior Play

Oh, Brother! is a comedy by Christopher Sergel.

The story takes place in the Jones' home. Paul Jones, who is in love with Jane Willoughby, tries to show his love by taking beautiful pictures and developing them. Paul's first mistake is when his flash powder explodes and the Willoughby living room burns, plus Mrs. Willoughby being blinded by the smoke. Yes, and Jane, Paul's girl has her eyebrows singed. Junior, Paul's brother, and Lilah, Junior's girl friend, don't help Paul, only to get him into more trouble. Junior's kitchen cleanser, ruins Mr. Willoughby's beautiful camera. Yes, and Junior's D. D. T. chicken feed that Paul sells kills hundreds of chickens. Paul lands in jail. Paul's father and Mr. Willoughby get into a fight because Willoughby has ordered crazy hats to sell at the Willoughby store where Mr. Jones works - - but not for long - - Willoughby fires Paul's father. Mr. Jones never has a kind word for anyone, especially not for his son, Paul, or the maid who he accuses of poisoning the food. There is just one continuous mix-up until Paul finally proves to Jane and her father, Mr. Willoughby that he doesn't always lie, cheat or steal in order to have money to buy his best girl cokes, marshmallow sundaes and jelly sandwiches. With the help of Paul's mother, Jack Willoughby, Mrs. Willoughby, Paul's sister, Mary, and even the Cop, the comedy has one laugh after another.

Senior Play

PROFESSOR, HOW COULD YOU!

Vicky Randolph was on her way to Professor Keats Perry's home to apologize to him for throwing an ink bottle at him in his class. While she is waiting for him, she overhears him telling his friend, John Appleby, that he has been offered the dean-ship of the college providing he gets married. Vicky apologized all right, but she has a fiendish plan forming in the back of her mind. Valerie Whitman, who has a reputation for "getting her man," is Vicky's choice in the race to become the professor's wife.

Grandma Perry chooses Tootsie Bean, a plump spinster and a marvelous cook, to get the professor, and John puts his money on Priscilla Morely, his secretary. Grandpa isn't telling who his choice is, but he's sure his candidate will win.

Things become very complicated and finally Keats has to make a choice from the three girls. Despite threats from Tootsie's big brother, "Butcher Boy," and the appearance of his previously unheard of wife, Lulu, he discards all the candidates and chooses Vicky. Everyone is well satisfied though. Boggins, the butler, falls in love with Tootsie and her cooking, John chooses Priscilla, and Valerie decides she didn't want to get married anyway. Grandpa has the last laugh, because he had his money bet on Vicky all the time.

Standing left to right: Mrs. Vandegriff, the director; Mary Lois Fleck, Vicky Randolph; Anita Schroll, Valerie Whitman; Charlotte Wright, Priscilla Morely; Robert Graham, "Butcher Boy" Bean; Herbert Underwood, John Appleby (Lulu, Keats' other wife); Pat Leckrone, Lulu's daughter; Doris Gibbs, Tootsie Bean; Morris Poer, Boggins, the butler; Jane Boucher, Grandma Perry; Glorea Grossnickle, Prompter; Lester Williams, Grandpa Perry.

State Champion Dairy Judging

Dairy Judging Team

Through the untiring efforts and persistence of Mr. Scribner another one of his judging teams came through as a victor. This was the first time in four years that the Dairy Judging Team had gotten through the County contest. Mr. Scribner still worked with the boys and it paid, because the team went to the State contest and won it.

Mr. Scribner's teams have won several State contests before at other schools and also here at Chester.

Congratulations to Mr. Scribner and his team.

CHESTER DAIRY TEAM CHAMPIONS

A dairy judging team from Chester township won first place at the Indiana State Fair last week. Classes judged were Jersey, Guernsey, Holstein and Brown Swiss, and reasons for decisions on Jersey and Guernsey. The possible score for each boy was 300. Chester was first with 842 points, Jay County was second with 831, Tippecanoe 828, LaGrange 827, Kendallville 826, Putman county 821 and Elkhart county 813.

The Chester boys included: Rex Schilling, Max Schilling, Robert Graham and Norman Chamberlain. Rex Schilling was high with 285 points and won a $100 scholarship to Purdue University. Bob Graham was third with 282 points. The Chester team and Coach, Cecil Scribner, received desk pen sets, the team received a purple championship ribbon, and Rex Schilling and Bob Graham received ribbons as individuals. The team will receive $200 to pay expenses to the national contest at Waterloo, Iowa, in October.

REPRESENTED INDIANA IN DAIRY JUDGING

A Chester Township dairy judging team, representing Indiana, participated in the national dairy cattle judging contest at Waterloo, Iowa, October 4, and won a silver emblem, an award for second division winners. The position of the teams, except by classes, was not announced. California, Idaho, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Oregon and Tennessee teams placed in the gold emblem division. In the individual scoring, Rex. M. Schilling placed in the first of gold emblem divisions, Max D. Schilling in the silver emblem division, and Robert L. Graham received honorable mention. Norman Chamberlain, the alternate, did not get to participate, as only three members of a team could enter the contest.

The boys, accompanied by Cecil Scribner, their coach, left September 30, visiting the Brookfield Zoo in Chicago that day, and then stopping Monday at the Curtis Candy Company farm at Carey, Illinois, to practice judge the dairy cattle on the farm. They returned home Saturday night.

Prophecy

The beautiful lady who rode the big white horse in the parade had fallen to the ground and after awaking, told this story of her dream of the Class of '51.

To start off, she said Bob Littlefield was the information desk clerk for TWA. He seems to know the best route to Servia, Indiana.

Speaking of airlines, Anita Williams, the former Anita Schroll, is a stewardess for TWA. It seems she decided this when she found out Lester Williams was going in the airlines as a co-pilot.

Dora Betten has received the great honor of becoming State Treasurer. It has been said that she obtained her experience from her high school career.

And speaking of offices, Bonnie Frieden has been tackling the job of secretary to Dora in her job.

Local businessmen include Max Cunningham. He is an embalmer for Bender's Funeral Home.

Charlotte Wright is a local business woman. She has opened her own beauty shoppe in Manchester.

Glore Grossnickle and Esther Frey have opened a branch of Mayo's Clinic in Hammond, Indiana. They received their training in Ft. Wayne at the Lutheran Hospital.

It seems Alvin Wiley has invested wisely. He bought a 500 acre farm and it proved to be a very profitable investment. He obtained his farming knowledge as a student of agriculture under Prof. Scribner.

Don Bechtold is in the farming business, too. He is in the livestock line. He has become known as "Best Dealer Bechtold in Livestock."

Mary Louise Feters has finished her medical lab technician training and is now assistant to Dr. LaSalle of Wabash.

James Schumaker has made himself a well known man in long distance trucking. He started out as a driver for "Brown of Wabash" but has advanced so that he now has part ownership in the company.

Prophecy

Max Richards has become famous too, at least to anyone buying a furnace. He is now head salesman for Lennox and Winkler Furnace Company. He got his experience at Smith's Tin Shop in Manchester.

Dorsey Rhoades, who also is in the trucking business, is an employee of "Brown of Wabash."

Jim Larrison has definitely decided to take life easy. He has invented a new car chassis which he has been working on since high school days. He got the idea from "tinkering" around Heeter's Garage.

Professional men from our class include Morris "Buck" Poer, who is the coach of the Chicago White Sox. He started out as their first baseman and has reached the coaching position. Also in this line is Herb Underwood. He is on Buck's opposing home team, The Chicago Cubs. He is their right fielder.

Have you heard of the new "Butcher" Market in Servia? It seems Mrs. Kenneth Bucher, the former Carolyn Enyeart, and Mrs. Max Bucher, the former Elizabeth Gump, have found out it is a very successful business!

Jim Hammond has taken over the "Snooker" and has lowered his prices to do a booming business. His faithful assistant is Dean Hapner.

Harold Frieden and Ted Frieden have gone into the hog and livestock business together. Harold is raising the hogs and Ted is raising the livestock; but their wives are raising the kids.

Bob Graham and Norman Chamberlain have also joined ideas, if you can call their thoughts ideas. They are raising dairy cows and are having gallons of fun.

Lloyd Reiken is the traveling salesman who stops at your door and asks, "Can I show you any brushes, Ma'am?" He has been employed by the Fuller Brush Company.

Jane Boocher and Mary Lois Fleck have given up completely. They are running a home for depressed old maids!

Another medical professional is Doris Gibbs. She is head nurse at Wabash County Hospital. Her theme song is "Nursie, Nursie, Come Over Here and Hold My Hand."

Acknowledgments

The Class of 1951 expresses its appreciation to the following persons and firms who were especially helpful in the production of Ravelings for 1951:

To Mr. Hazlett of the Cron Studio for his generosity in regard to photography.

To Mr. Broom of the Fort Wayne Engraving Company for planning aids.

To Mr. Long and the Earl W. Hamer Printing Company for courtesies extended in printing.

To Mr. Paul Baker for cover help.

To the Heckman Bindery for courtesies beyond the line of duty in binding.

To Mr. Gerald Miller for his interest and co-operation in taking many pictures.

To school officials, parents, fellow students, business and professional men, and all others who helped to make Ravelings for 1951 a reality.
